

THE FRIDAY LETTER

This Week at The Wyche

This week at the Wyche Badgers learned about the festival of Eid-al-fitr, the great feast at the end of Ramadan, Stoats learned about the Jewish Torah and its various features. Otters considered the evidence of Shang Dynasty worship and prayers by looking at Oracle bones as evidence and Foxes finished their Bridget Riley installation and assembled it. It is eye-popping. Hedgehogs considered who the responsible people are in the school and walked the site looking at the jobs they do.

Collective Worship

This week we considered Jesus' last supper, the betrayal by Judas and its place in the story of Jesus' passion and road to his death and resurrection. We also learned that these words from the gospels are repeated by Christians every time they take Holy Communion. As the weeks go by we will learn about and reflect on the road to Calvary and what resurrection means to Christians.

Support for Parents - Relationships

Being together, and staying together can be hard. Sometimes relationships go through tough patches, break down or fall apart. We can listen, help and provide support through agencies, training or helplines. If you are struggling with a relationship break up, come and see us and we will listen and offer some help and advice.

Online Safety

At primary age, if our children have any kind of messaging app, we should be checking them regularly. Watch out for deleted messages or vanishing contacts. Messaging apps are more likely places than playgrounds or parks for bullying to occur so talk to your child today, and check that phone.

That was a cracking week, full of words and wonder.
Roll on Monday, I say.
always in partnership,
Mr Murphy

‘Girls Can Play’

In celebration of International Womens Day this coming Sunday, a team of our year 3,4 girls visited Dyson Perrins where they took part in the ‘Girls Can Play’ football festival. The girls came back full of stories about the competition having had a great time. We are super proud of them and their performance.

By living and learning together through our Christian values of Safety, Trust, Respect, Inspiration, Value, & Engagement, with God’s help, we will support each other to “soar”, lifting hearts and broadening horizons, so that by giving our best today, the world may be better tomorrow.

World Book Day!

On Thursday of this week the school celebrated World Book Day. In true 'Wyche' fashion the children and staff all dressed up and embraced an 'adjective'. The day was a real celebration of 'words' and 'stories'. During the afternoon the children were split into mixed year groups and enjoyed a host of activities.

We have taken hundreds of pictures of his fabulous day - please see below a small handful of our favourites.
