

THE FRIDAY LETTER

This Week at The Wyche

This week Badgers have been throwing themselves into auditions, casting and rehearsals for "Cinderella and Rockefeller" (and singing their hearts out too), Stoats made illustrated hymn books in RE, Otters made posters explaining the pentatonic scale, Foxes learned about the different ways visitor come to Malvern and how transport has changed, and Hedgehogs went on an invertebrate safari and found all kinds of things "that creepeth upon the earth".

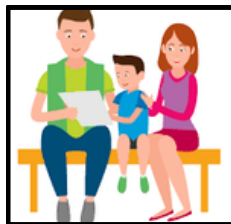

Collective Worship

We thought more about Jesus' offer of "living water" to the Samaritan woman at the well (and Christians believe, to everyone,) and considered the clean pure gift of water the Malvern Hills give us every day, focussing on the peace offered by the well-dressing display on our own Lower Wyche Rd.

Support for Parents

If you need support in any way over the half term don't forget there are numbers and services which can help. Please check out our list of services on our website if you need a little help. <https://www.wyche.worcs.sch.uk/support-for-parents>

The best way to stay safe online ... don't be online.

One of the best ways to stay safe online during a sunny May half term holiday is not to be online. Why not encourage children to take a break from screens, (unless it's sunscreen 😊) and get some vitamin D, draw a picture, walk the dog, bake scones, play a board game, kick a ball about, play catch, go for a swim, read a book, put on a show, dress up, solve a puzzle, go to the cinema, play with your cat, get some rest, make some music play cards, and generally live life in 3D. Have a wonderful break; life is short, don't spend too much of it online.

That's half term! We made it. have a fabulous and sunny bank holiday break and we will see you in one week's time the last seven wonderful weeks at The Wyche before the long summer break.

Spirituality

Our amazing worship council responded to our collective worship assemblies about water by getting active.

It was their idea to set a challenge for pupils to come up with posters about clean water and to reduce pollution in rivers and seas.

It is a mark of the spiritual life of the school that the pupils feel inspired to engage with issues like this and make our waterways more safe for wildlife and people.

Half Term Challenge

set by Worship Council

This half term challenge is about making posters that explain how littering and rubbish can affect our rivers and schools and the life of our local wildlife and sealife.

Make a poster to tell people how to keep water clean and healthy.

Use any material or medium (collage, paper, pens, paint, natural materials, photograph, etc, but make it yourself – no AI!)

- Be safe and get adult help if you need to -

There will be 10HP for the best poster and 5 HP for runners up in every class.

Every entry will receive 2HP for engagement.

You have the power to make our water cleaner
